TAGLINE

Every unit, accounted for.

From the line to the shelf — track every product you make, every shipment you send, and every sale you record.

The name draws from the shipping manifest — the document listing every item in a shipment. The word also means "to make plainly visible." Both meanings are doing work: nothing is hidden, everything is on the record.

Reserved for stamps, audit IDs, codes — anything that should feel "on the record."

Manifest sounds like a person who's done the job, not someone selling it.

✓ WE SAY

"Crate #04A arrived at Acme Retail at 14:22."

"Reconcile sales against shipments."

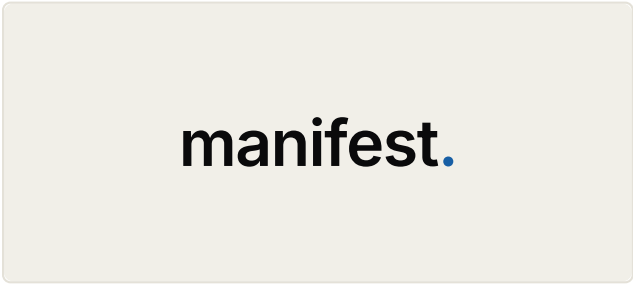

"Three units unaccounted for in this batch."

✗ WE DON'T

"Your shipment has been successfully delivered!"

"Leverage real-time logistics intelligence."

"Some items may be missing."
